NEVADA'S FINANCES.

Nevada's financial condition has recently been the subject of unfavorable criticism at home and abroad. We have, in common with other State papers, called for facts and figures in vain, and we deem it proper at this time to devote some space to the question. The GAZETTE to-day publishes sufficient facts to put every man upon his opinion in the matter. Our opinion may be outlined as follows: We believe that the investment of school moneys in State bonds is lawful and constitutional, but that it has been carried too far. The Legislators were derelict in not raising the tax levy to a proper figure, and the State officers took this neglect too easily in view of the ever-ready School Fund. We do not believe there is any adequate justification for the difference of the State's condition now and on January 1st, 1879. The constitutional limit of State indebtedness has already been provided for, and the next Legislature must rely wholly upon the levy. In two years we shall have no capacity for borrowing, and no money in the State Treasury, and we will owe $680,000. The reports of the State officers, while full and complete, have almost no meaning at all to those not acquainted with the manner of preparing them and with the matter they contain. We have put all the facts in a shape so that they must be plain to everyone. We believe the credit of the State is greatly endangered by the policy now being carried out, and our only object is to place the matter plainly before the people. The whole matter, in a nutshell, is, the people must pay higher taxes, or else the Constitution must be changed so that the State can go into the markets and borrow more than $300,000 until such times as mines are opened, or property increases in value. The credit of Nevada, if rightly treated, would be better than that of half the States in the Union. She ought to be in better shape than three out of four, but under the present policy is suffering severely, and word is going out that we are not able to support a State Government. This state of affairs demands a remedy, and it is for the people to consider and provide that remedy.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The decision of the Supreme Court declaring the Asylum bill constitutional was published to-day. There has never been any doubt that the law would stand, among competent legal authorities.

Complaints come from London that King Kalakaua is acting somewhat queerly in that gay metropolis. It is said His Majesty drinks more than is good for him, and the other night, at a banquet at the Mansion House, the sable monarch of the Sandwich Islands essayed to kiss the Lord Mayor. Why this dignified functionary refused to receive the royal embrace is not told, but the scene must have been a very ludicrous one.

Police Court.

Constable Avery last evening arrested one Woodworth and Willie Jones, better known as "Three-Fingered-Jack," a boy 15 years old, for burglarizing the house of the section foreman of the V. & T. bridge and stealing jewelry etc. They will be tried to-morrow.

A thirteen-year old Carson boy, named Johnny Kelso, was handling a loaded shotgun last night in a bedroom where his mother was lying, when the gun went off putting the whole charge in little Johnny's left leg, a part making a bad wound in the calf and the balance entering between the knee and thigh.

Funerals cost about $1,000,000 annually in Chicago, $6,000,000 in Illinois, and $100,000,000 in the United States.

The New York Sun, Times and Tribune, together with all the California papers have been very much exercised for a long time for fear that Nevada will not be able to support her present form of government. These assertions have been freely made and no adequate answer has been attempted. It has become important to enquire what state of affairs has authorized such opinions and how far they are borne out by facts. In answer to the Sun, Times and Tribune of this State as well as others, the GAZETTE submits the following statement concerning the financial affairs of Nevada. It will bear close reading and is intended to notify the people of certain facts which must be understood in order that a remedy may be provided for any weak points in present financial policies. At the outset the GAZETTE desires to say that there is no competent authority in the State which fears for the future, if proper financial methods can be adopted in time.

THE STATE PAPERS.

The Carson Appeal, which seems to be in a small way the organ of the State officers, has contented itself with the publication of communications from "One Who Knows" and these exhibits have been conspicuous for the absence of figures, heretofore deemed very appropriate in statements of Finance. These articles have been extensively credited to one of the minor officers in the State capital.

The Carson Tribune has been able to see nothing but a wise and able administration, but for lack of space has been unable to give the figures upon which the wisdom and efficiency have been based.

The Carson Index has taken up arms against "a sea of troubles" and been well-nigh drowned in the effort to "end them." Its attention has been directed to a gallant defense of the irreducible School Fund; it claiming against the decision of the Courts that school money has been diverted to illegal uses.

The Virginia Chronicle has not attempted to treat the matter in any way, and the Enterprise has been so distressed about national and international complications, that it has been in mind absent from the State for some time.

The Eureka Leader holds with much plausibility, that the present financial methods are correct, and ex-Controller Hobart claims with some show of pride, to have fathered the policy.

The Silver State takes rather a doubtful view of the present status, and seems, in common with other State papers, to desire more information on the subject. A writer in the "EUREKA SENTINEL," who is singularly in accord with Superintendent Sessions, has this to say upon the subject of State debt and school money:

The State of Nevada owes to-day $425,000. The principal item in this amount is $380,000—a debt inherited from the Territory of Nevada. Of the remaining $45,000, $40,000 of debt has accrued since the adjournment of the last Legislature for current expenses, and $5,000 to defray the preliminary costs of constructing the State's Insane Asylum at Reno. This indebtedness is in the form of an irredeemable bond for $380,000, bearing interest at 5 per cent. payable semi-annually, and $45,000 in $1,000 bonds at 4 per cent. interest, payable, also, semi-annually.

The writer then argues that the Asylum bill is constitutional. A point about which there has never been any doubt, and which has been recently decided. Concerning the borrowing of the School Fund the SUPREME COURT has said under Section 8 of Article 11 of the Constitution, the proceeds of the sales of public lands donated to the State by the General Government, as well as moneys received from other sources, are solemnly pledged for educational purposes, and required to be placed in the School Fund, and not be transferred to any other fund for other use. This fund the Legislature is commanded to invest in "United States bonds or the bonds of this State," and the interest only of the capital of the fund shall be used for educational purposes. In this behalf it is argued that the issuance of the bonds provided for in this Act is an evasion of the investment directed by the Constitution; that the Constitution contemplates the purchase of bonds existing at the time of the passage of the enactment authorizing the loan. This objection is without force. It is manifest that the bonds provided for by this Act are as much the bonds of the State as if they had been outstanding at the time of the passage of the Act, and were thereafter to be purchased for the benefit of the School Fund. The Legislature primarily directs the investment of the moneys in this fund, and so long as it complies with the directions of the Constitution, and makes the loan upon the securities required by that instrument, the loan will be valid.

In conclusion the writer in the Sentinel settles the entire question in this neat and self-satisfactory manner. But grave doubts are expressed as to whether the State will ever be able to pay this money back into the sacred fund of the Public Schools. Whether these are reasonable apprehensions it is not necessary to determine.

It was hardly necessary, then, to disturb the question. "Suppose," say the critics, "that Nevada goes to the dogs to-day, according to the new edition, then we won't have any money to pay our children's education." A complete answer to this proposition is, that if Nevada ever gets so poor that she cannot pay the interest on her debt, limited by the Constitution to $300,000, and keep up the contingencies of a State organization besides, we will be so reduced as to go under entirely, taking our Public Schools along with us; for, in any event, our destiny is to live under a State Government fostering the Public Schools, or to see both institutions perish together.

It will certainly strike every citizen of this State that if we owe money the manner of repayment is worthy of consideration. Nevada has not "gone to the dogs" or to the other place, but it may be justly feared that she is following false financial prophets, and enjoying a delusive prosperity from which there must come a rude awakening. When that time comes, her people will respond heartily and defend the Silver State's credit as they have done before. Measures may be adopted in time, however, to ease the certain difficulties which await us in the future. To secure measures, the GAZETTE gives an outline of State Finances under the present administration. Following is an extract from

GOV. BRADLEY'S LAST MESSAGE:

There was in the State Treasury on the first day of January, 1879, the sum of six hundred and sixty-eight thousand and sixty-four dollars and fifteen cents ($668,064 15). This amount is far beyond the wants of the State. It is, I believe, recognized as sound policy that the State should not collect by taxes more money during any year than is necessary to keep its business on a sound cash basis. It will be seen that there is in the General Fund $313,254 52, and in the Building Fund $132,875 04, the latter large sum it is probable, will more than meet all authorized appropriations for public buildings.

Allowing that the cost of the present session should be $90,000, there would remain in the General Fund over $223,000. This sum, together with that received at the June settlement, will be much more than sufficient to cover the current expenses of the State for the year 1879. It will be seen that in the Special Funds, known as the Territorial Interest, the State School, the Territorial Interest and sinking, and the University Funds, there is now the sum of $187,981 78. This money cannot be used, even by the Legislature, for any other purpose than the purchase and cancellation of State Bonds.

Following is from the Controller's report:

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE STATE.

On the first day of January, 1879, the debt of the State, as shown by the biennial report of this office, consisted of:

Ten per cent. State Bonds, redeemable April 1, 1881.....	$ 74,000 00
Nine and one-half per cent. State Bonds, redeemable March 1st, 1881.....	86,000 00
Nine and one-half per cent. State Bonds, redeemable March 1st, 1887.....	360,000 00

Accrued interest.....	16,616 96
Outstanding warrants.....	39,598 30
Total.....	$206,614 96
The assets applicable to meet of the debt consisted of:
Bonds in Interest and Sinking Funds.....	$350,000 00
Accrued interest on same.....	2,534 90
Cash in Treasury and in Leg-islative control.....	599,973 94
Total applicable assets.....	$852,508 84

Assets over State debt January 1st, 1879.....$645,893 88

SUMMING UP.

Governor Bradley had this to say in closing his message to the Legislature: Before closing this message, I hope it will not be inopportune to refer to the condition of the State eight years ago, when I first took charge of the Executive department, and its present condition. Then the State was loaded down with a debt of over $700,000. State warrants were hawked about the street at from sixty to sixty-five cents on the dollar; there was no money in the Treasury; heavy defalcations had brought disgrace upon at least two departments of the State Government. In a word, we had starting us in the face "an exhausted credit and bankrupt Treasury." Now we have over $680,000 in the Treasury; our entire public debt is paid, or the payment provided for; taxes have been reduced from one hundred and twenty-five to ninety cents on the one hundred dollars, and can at this session be again greatly reduced; eight years of economical administration has placed the State Treasury $1,350,000 better off than it was on the first of January, 1871, and that on a reduced rate of taxation.

In his report for the year 1879, Controller Hobart said:

With ordinary prudence in appropriation, and average economy in expenditure, a tax of fifty cents on each $100 assessed valuation, ought to be ample with the available money in the Treasury to defray all the expenses of the State Government for the next two years, and leave a reasonable surplus on hand at the convening of the next Legislature. Indeed, by the transfer of the money in the Building Fund to the General Fund, the State tax can safely be reduced to forty cents for the next two years.

The necessary transfer was made from the Building Fund, but the handsome surplus has been advertised for without success.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

In Treasurer Schooling's report in 1879, he sums up in this way:

Upon balancing the General Revenue account of your State, I find we have on hand enough to pay our entire indebtedness and leave a net asset of $683,991 09 in coin, and $9,401 78 in currency, an advancement of $1,400,000 in favor of the State in eight years, our taxes lowered, and enough in the Treasury to reduce the State levy to less than one half what it was at the beginning of the year 1871, the business of the State upon a permanent cash basis, and your agents begging the bond-holders to sell the State her bonds, even at an extortionate premium. It will be observed, also, by reference to this report, that could our bonds be purchased at their face to-day, we could cancel our entire indebtedness, leaving a net balance on hand for governmental expenses of $230,064 48 coin, and $668 80 currency, without disturbing a net balance of $452,996 61 coin, and $8,937 93 currency, devoted more particularly to educational purposes. It will be seen we have net assets amounting to $682,991 09 coin, and $9,401 78 currency, as shown by this report.

The reports given above will put the reader in full possession of the pleasant facts which comforted Nevada in 1879.

ON JULY 1st, 1881.

Let us go to the reports and learn what the change has been in our affairs to date.

The total receipts from all sources for 1879 and 1880, amounted to $386,221 40. If the premium paid for the bonds be added to the debt as stated for January 1st, 1879, the amount will be $711,987 44 as the debt at that date, and the assets in excess of the debt will be $110,810 70. The State owes now $425,000. These two sums added to receipts as above represent a difference of $922,032 10 between January 1st, 1879, and July 1st, 1881, a term of 30 months, or an average of $30,781 07 for expenditures each month. There is now about $40,000 cash in the various funds, exclusive of the irreducible School Fund, after deducting outstanding warrants. The total for the year 1878, according to Controller Hobart, was $28,024,610 39. The valuation in 1879, according to Controller Hallcock, was $39,291,460 18, for 1880 $27,598,658 66. The value of taxation was lowered in 1879 to 55 cents and in 1881 raised again to 90 cents on the $100. In his last report Controller Hallcock says:

VALUE OF TAXABLE PROPERTY.

Times may be more prosperous in the near future, but we cannot make hope a basis on which to estimate our revenue. We must deal with realities and under existing conditions it is hardly reasonable to suppose that taxable values, for the next two years, will exceed in amount the sum of $30,000,000, and on that basis I have made my estimates. The necessary expenses of government which must be provided for, for the years 1881-2, will be $773,738 60, and the sum of $615,960 must be derived from a property tax and a tax on the proceeds of mines. To effect this, THE RATE OF TAXATION cannot be less than $1 18, on the $100 valuation. Thirty millions of dollars, at the rate of $1 18 on the $100 valuation, would give $708,000, but from this amount must be deducted ten per cent. for cost of collection and armory rents, and three per cent for loss in delinquent taxes, and the remainder will be $615,960, the sum required.

The GAZETTE agrees with Controller Hallcock that it is not well to build financial estimates on hope, and it is hardly reasonable that taxable property should be estimated at more than $27,000,000 for the next two years. The Controller asks for a rate of $1 18, and apportioned as follows:

To the General Fund.....	$97 74
To the Territorial Interest Fund.....	07 74
To the State Interest & Sinking Fund.....	08
To the General School Fund.....	08

Total.....$1 18

The rate is 90 cents instead of $1 18 which will produce a deficiency in the property tax item alone of $193,140. This is according to Controller Hallcock's recommendation, and the facts as at present existing. There are still further over-estimates which will swell the deficiency. This can be shown by quoting the receipts and expenditures of the last two years. The receipts for 1879 was $203,639 37, expenditures $410,253 09. The receipts for 1880 were $182,592 03, expenditures $244,418 23. It is apparent that a large deficiency each year in the face of decreasing values is unhealthy, and that is no doubt the reason for the Controller's asking a raise of the rate to $1 18. In his last message

YEARLY EXPENDITURES.

The following table shows the yearly expenditures of Nevada since the State organization:

YEAR	Total
1865.....	$463,416 03
1866.....	430,736 49
1867.....	735,733 37
1868.....	288,463 88
1869.....	484,733 37
1870.....	579,353 25
1871.....	518,797 38
1872.....	692,360 73
1873.....	596,904 77
1874.....	648,353 08
1875.....	683,081 81
1876.....	739,848 54
1877.....	$20,615 26
1878.....	361,991 15
1879.....	1,676,080 79
1880.....	321,078 93

The estimate of total expenditures for 1881 and 1882 is $1,175,532 21. It will be seen that the average and estimated expenses have been $43,686 08 per month since the organization of the government.

GOVERNOR KINKADE'S SAY.

It will be seen that the amount of receipts applicable to the general disbursement for the year 1879 was $176,078 68. The disbursements were, including legislative deficiencies and extraordinary expenditures, $338,571 36 or, without including them, $232,410 99—a sum above receipts from taxes, etc., in the first case of $207,493 68, in the last of $56,332 31. In 1880 the receipts were $151,244 46; the expenditures, $211,364 06; a deficiency of $60,119 60. It will be your duty to devise means both to enlarge the revenue to meet the necessary expenses of the State Government and to reduce the cost of its support to the lowest minimum consistent with capable and efficient service.

What has been done? The Legislature took no action which raised the rate of taxation or increased the amount of taxable property. The financial officers have kept themselves on a cash basis by means of a queer law, passed in obedience to their suggestion, which gives them in reality the right to transfer moneys from the State School Fund to the General Fund of the State. This law, which was suggested by the State financial officers, and under which they are acting, reads as follows:

THE $220,000 LOAN.

For the purpose of keeping the State on a cash basis, without resorting to an onerous rate of taxation, the sum of $220,000 is hereby authorized to be borrowed from the following educational funds in the State Treasury, for the use and benefit of the State, viz: The State School Fund, the State University Fund, and the State University Fund 90,000 acre grant (so called.)

Sec. 2.—Said loan shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, and shall be payable at any time within ten years from the passage of this act.

All sums derived from interest on money borrowed from the State School Fund shall go into the General School Fund for the support of the common schools of the State.

Sec. 3.—The State Treasurer is hereby authorized and empowered to transfer from time to time, as the necessity may arise, the money in the fund herein authorized to be borrowed from, to the General Fund of the State, until the limit of $220,000 is reached; Whenever, however, he makes such transfer he shall deposit in the fund borrowed from a bond or bonds, duly authorized, equal in amount to the sum transferred, which bond or bonds shall state in substance, that the State of Nevada owes the sum borrowed from the amount transferred on a certain day to the General Fund, that it promises to pay the interest on that amount semi-annually, as herein specified, at the rate of four per cent. per annum, and that it will pay the principal within ten years from the date of the approval of this act.

The Constitution, Article XI, Section III, says that all moneys which may be derived from lands granted or to be granted the State for school purposes, are held and solemnly pledged to educational purposes and shall not be transferred to any other fund for other uses.

After reading the provisions of the above act carefully it may be well to note that the terms granting one of the above funds says that the money is not to be let at any less rate than five per cent. The bill provides for four. Here is the present status of the 90,000-Acre Grant Fund from which it also is proposed to draw:

UNIVERSITY 90,000-ACRE GRANT.

On January 1st, 1881, there was $47,470 in the University 90,000-acre grant fund in bonds; also $12,400 of coin. Surveyor General Hatch has this to say of the securities in this fund in his report for the year 1880:

An Act of Congress, approved March 16, 1873, provides: "That the grant made to the State of Nevada, under Section 3 of the Act of July 4, 1866, entitled 'An Act concerning certain lands granted to the State of Nevada,' shall not cease by reason of the failure of the said State to provide at least one college, as required by the several Acts of Congress as a condition of said grant, but the same shall continue in full force; provided, that all the conditions of law be complied with prior to the 10th of May, 1877."

From the foregoing it would appear that the State of Nevada has, by non-compliance with the terms of this grant, and of the several Acts concerning the same subsequently passed, forfeited all claim and right to the benefit of its provisions, and that although the title of purchasers of these lands through the State is confirmed, all sums of money derived from the sale of these lands (except interest) must revert to the General Government, unless Congress shall, at the request of the Legislature, provide otherwise.

The borrowing of $80,000 for building an insane asylum has also been authorized. This, taken with the $220,000 before mentioned, will make $300,000 which the State will owe in addition to the $380,000 already due the State School Fund. Article IX, Section 3, of the Constitution, says:

Sec. 3.—For the purpose of enabling the State to transact business on a cash basis from its organization, the State may contract public debts; but such debts shall never in the aggregate, exclusive of interest, exceed the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, except for the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenses hereinafter mentioned.

The reader will see now that the Legislature has already authorized the limit of the State's capacity for borrowing. Also that under the present system of expenditure this borrowed sum will all be expended in paying deficiencies already provided for by lack of legislative enactment, and further, that the School Fund will not be in a condition to respond to further drafts on it for State purposes. What will

THE CONDITION OF AFFAIRS?

The State will be unable to borrow under the Constitution, there will be no money in the Treasury for general disbursement, and the sacred irreducible School Fund will be replaced by sacred and irreducible symptoms of State indebtedness. In fact there is not sufficient money now in the State School Fund to meet the requirements of the discretionary transfer now resting with the State Financial authorities. It is claimed with some plausibility that the income from the sales of lands will supply the necessary amount. If, however, the discretionary bonds go in at the rate of $20,000 per month, as they did in May and June, the fund will not hold out. Following shows the receipts of the State School Fund, irreducible, from sale of lands:

January, 1881.....	$332 73
February.....	9454 79
March.....	4744 81
April.....	6759 33
May.....	3133 34
June.....	8708 16

Total for six months.....$17,278 96

If land sales should increase, however, to $20,000 per month it would not afford any relief, since the same end will result. The trouble is that the Legislators have shirked their duty of providing sufficient revenues, and the financial officers of the State have not succeeded in properly bringing the necessities of the State before the Legislators. Another trouble has been the earnest and ever manifest desire of the State officers to keep themselves on a sound financial basis. This has induced them to sanction, without limit, the borrowing from the School Fund, and this prevented the credit of the State from taking its proper rank in the money market. There is not a man in this State who can say definitely to-day, what the State's credit is. This is owing to the delusive policy which has lately been pursued. There is no reason why Nevada's credit should not be good; there is no reason why she should not meet her expenses, and there is still less reason why, with the facts above shown, any suspicion should at this early day be thrown upon us. If Nevada exhausts her constitutional credit and has no money who will determine the discount on her warrants. With her finances resting upon what is at least a delusive basis and the necessity for a radical change, is it not time for a vigorous and thorough discussion of these matters. There is no use in covering a sore, that will not cure it. The attention of the hard-working men in the State Capitol is invited to these matters, and their intelligent comment is earnestly desired. The people must remedy this state of affairs, and it is the business of the officers to help them. It may be said that such frank statements are calculated to hurt the credit of the State. That is a child's idea. The credit of Nevada has been injured more by the silence which seemed incapable of explanation than by aught that can now be said. The GAZETTE has deemed it wise to let the air in upon this matter. If it stands the light of day, well and good. There is no excuse for this state of affairs. With every debt provided for and over $200,000 untouched January 1st, 1879, there is no justification for a debt to-day of $425,000, and a further increase of $335,000 provided for and already commenced upon.

THE $380,000 BOND.

Much has been said about the irredeemable, irreducible, non-transferable, infallible $380,000 bond. This is its history: The Territorial indebtedness was represented by States bonds for $380,000, bearing 9½ per cent. and payable in 1887. A law was passed in '77, which was amended in '79, providing for the redemption of this bond; $175,000 from the Territorial Interest and Sinking Fund, and $335,000 from the State School Fund, was appropriated for this purpose. The law instructed the Commission to place in the State School Fund an irredeemable, non-transferable bond for $380,000, which should state in substance that Nevada owed its State School Fund the sum named together with interest at 5 per cent. per annum. The purchase was consummated on the 1st of April, 1879, at the cost of $491,627 16. The bonds were cancelled and an irredeemable State bond for $380,000, drawing 5 per cent. interest, was placed in the State School Fund, as by law provided. This was, according to all information, an unauthorized present of $55,000 to the School Fund. Whether this was an advantageous transaction for the State may form the subject of a future discussion. In the Controller's statement of State debt the famous bond appears as follows. It will readily be noticed that the $380,000 bond is merely a nominal debt:

	Amount.	Interest.	Total.
Ten-year gold bonds, issued April 1, 1871 (ten per cent.).....	$60,000 00	$1,410 00	$61,410 00
$380,000 irredeemable State bond, issued April 1, 1879, for State School Fund (5 per cent.).....	380,000 00	9,500 00	389,500 00
Outstanding warrants.....	9,018 02	0 00	9,018 02
Total.....	$449,018 02	$10,910 00	$459,928 02

In his prefatory remarks Controller Hallcock says this is merely a nominal debt and says in explanation that it is not necessary to provide for its payment.

Government Inspection.

Mr. Foster, an agent for the U. S. Census Bureau, is in Reno. He is collecting samples of rock from every quarry in the United States, and sending pieces to Washington. These are cut into 4-inch cubes and put into the National Museums at Washington and New York. He goes to Carson in the morning. He thinks the quarry north Reno is very valuable. He says a city could be built without exhausting it.

STATE FINANCES CONTINUED.

ment. He said at the same time to a GAZETTE representative, that the Legislature could at any session change its character and determine to pay it in one year. If this be true, is it not also true that its payment ought to be provided for long before that chance legislation takes place? In the following exhibit, the matter, it would seem, is treated differently. Following is the statement of Treasurer Crockett in 1881. It will be seen that the $380,000 bond is considered a valuable security.

Cash on hand and bonds belonging to the funds set apart particularly for educational purposes; also warrants outstanding against the same, and net assets December 31, 1880:

Cash on hand and bonds belonging to the Funds.	Amount.
State Bond in State School Fund.	$390,000 00
Accrued interest on same.	19,500 00
U. S. four per cent. Consols in University F'd 50,000-acre Grant.	47,000 00
Accrued interest on same.	470 00
United States four per cent. Consols in State University Fund.	18,000 00
Accrued interest on same.	180 00
United States four per cent. Consols in State School Fund.	35,000 00
Accrued interest on same.	800 00
Cash in General School Fund.	14,041 08
Cash in State School Fund.	96,284 65
Cash in University Fund, 90,000-acre Grant.	12,400 17
Cash in State University Fund.	8,419 04
Total.	$619,284 89
Balance assets Dec. 31, 1880.	$619,077 04

Take out the big bond and other school money and this imposing total is reduced to $69,227 04. Why should this item be $389,500, when an asset of the School Fund, and only $9,000 when appearing as a State debt? What makes it valuable to the School Fund when it is not a debt of the State?

THE SUPREME COURT

Of Nevada said in a recent decision: The proceedings by which the bonds of 1871 were retired, and the $380,000 bond, now in the School Fund, issued, did not extinguish the Territorial indebtedness. That indebtedness still exists, but it is evidenced by a different obligation; that is to say, by a bond for $380,000, bearing 5 per cent. per annum interest, instead of bonds for the same amount, bearing 9 1/2 per cent. interest per annum.

The Supreme Court has decided as follows concerning

CONSTITUTIONAL INDEBTEDNESS:

The authority to create a bonded debt is subject to no restriction or condition whatever save that such sum shall not exceed the sum of $300,000, and the law authorizing it shall provide for its payment within twenty years by taxation. The Constitution nowhere declares the necessity which shall exist as prerequisite to the issuance of bonds or the making of a loan under this section, nor the use to which money obtained by such loan shall be applied. From the language employed by the instrument itself, as from the debate in the convention upon these portions of the Constitution relating to State finances, the object in authorizing a bonded indebtedness was to enable the State to maintain its business upon a cash basis, notwithstanding financial exigencies, without resorting to onerous taxation.

SUMMARY.

The above facts show that all State debts were provided for, and a large balance remained in the treasury January 1st, 1879. The State now owes $425,000, and in a very short term of months will owe $690,000 to the Sacred and Irreducible School Fund. She will then not be able to borrow more under the constitution, and will have no money. The $380,000 bond is a debt of the State, and is the Territorial indebtedness in a substantiated form. The proceeds of the 90,000 acre grant are now really forfeited to the general government. The use of school moneys through loan has confined the matter of State finance too closely within the State Capitol. The legislative and financial officers are to blame for not providing an adequate rate of taxation upon an approved valuation. The property of the State has not been properly appraised, and the people not consulted regarding the policy now in practice. The GAZETTE has cheerfully informed them of certain facts in the case. There must be action, and it must be intelligent. There is no fear but the State will rally under any ordinary burden. Hence the expedience of handing this statement to the tax payers of Nevada.

Excursion and Married.

H. E. McClellan went below with the excursionists, and returned this morning. He found a lady in San Francisco whom he believed to be a necessary addition to the natural beauties of northeastern California, and brought her along. She now calls herself Mrs. McClellan. The pair left for Milford this morning.

A BEAUTIFUL PLAY.

How it was Appreciated in New York City.

Hazel Kirke wants a notice every day because they think the more people know about the play the more anxious they are to see it. The play took wonderfully in New York. It was the only play that appeared on the boards of the beautiful Madison Square theatre in New York for the first two years it was opened. When the play reached its fiftieth night the occasion was thought worthy of being celebrated, and the programme was printed in colors for distribution. On the hundredth night a blue satin programme was thought none too good. The second hundred nights were celebrated by a banner with heavy tassels. On the two hundredth and fiftieth a large book with illustrations was distributed to all who attended. The three hundredth was celebrated by giving away an expensive book in Morocco and gold, costing $3 75 each. The three hundred and seventieth by a bronze plaque card receiver, with medallion head of Effie Ellster, worth $5 each. The four hundred and fiftieth by a large work of engraving, and the five hundredth will soon have to be celebrated.

The Demand Tells.

The new soda generator recently received from Boston by R. E. Queen, the druggist is of the most approved style and enables him to charge his fountain under a pressure of fifteen atmospheres. The superior quality of the soda water drawn from his fountain is proof of the purity of the materials used in its manufacture, while the cream and syrups are simply delicious, the whole forming a refreshing, healthy and exhilarating drink. The immense run on his soda fountain shows the public appreciation of really fine soda water.

Mastodon Sell.

It was currently reported in town last Monday that while a party of fishermen were making their way up Donner Creek toward the lake that they came across some unusually large bones at a point nearly midway between the lake and town. They commenced investigation at once and soon found that the bones belonged to nothing less than the skeleton of a mastodon. It is the intention of the parties to exhumate the skeleton in a few days.—Truckee Republican.

A GAZETTE reporter was in town that day and found the large bones to be those of a horse.

Again in Trouble.

"Rattlesnake Dick," just out of the State Prison, was yesterday arrested in Virginia on suspicion of his having been in some way connected with the robbery of Manning's jewelry store. A man who was seen passing along the street with a small leather satchel in his hand was taken to the station-house and searched. Instead of gold chains and diamond rings, the satchel was found to contain nothing more valuable than the implements of a piano-tuner. The man was at once released.

The Palace.

The new Palace Hotel will soon be ready for business and the GAZETTE will give some particulars soon in regard to the opening. It can be taken as a settled fact that the new house will be complete in every respect and that the interior arrangement of the hotel cannot be excelled in the State of Nevada.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Another Celebrated Case.

SAN JOSE, July 12.

The Carlton manslaughter case came to an abrupt termination to-day. The jury were empaneled at 11:30 A. M., and only two witnesses, who saw the killing, were introduced by the prosecution. The State then rested, the intention being to put in the weight of the testimony in rebuttal, Laine, for the defense, however, offered in evidence a number of copies of the Hollister Enterprise, published by Brummett, who was slain, to prove that a newspaper controversy had existed for some time prior to the publication of the article by Carlton, which was the cause of the deadly encounter. He then rested. The case will be argued to-morrow. In the first trial Carlton was convicted, and in the second the jury disagreed.

Arctic Accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.

The whaler Thomas Pope, Captain Millard, arrived this morning from the Arctic. She left the Straits June 2. The day before leaving she spoke the whaler Progress, Captain Barker, and from her learned that the Indians, near East Cape had found the two missing whalers, Vigilant and Mount Wollaston. The Indians found three corpses only on board the Vigilant. From their appearance it was evident that they had died in the first year of their captivity in the ice. The Indians brought away from the Vigilant some money, a spy glass, a bomb gun and a fowling piece. No one, dead or alive, was found on the Mount Wollaston. The revenue cutter Corwin has sent a sledge party in search of the Indians to recover the articles named, and obtain further information. No news from the Jeanette.

The Contest at Albany.

NEW YORK, July 12.

A Times' Albany special says: Miller and Lapham's friends hope they will be elected this week. The Administration is stronger than on Saturday, and will stand firm. Their opponents fear a break, which will end in a stampede. With a full House, Miller was only seven votes short of an election, and the margin will probably be reduced to five to-morrow on the first ballot and he may be elected on the second. Warner Miller arrived to-day, and his room was crowded by Republicans of both factions, and the Democrats congratulated him much as though he were already elected. Should an election occur by Thursday, a bill for special Congressional elections will be pushed.

ALBANY, July 12.

The report put in circulation that ex-Senator Conkling has written a letter retiring from the canvass for the Senatorship is denied on excellent authority. It is said that he will never retire.

Mormon Converts.

OMAHA, July 12.

Nine hundred Mormon converts from Europe passed through the city yesterday en route to Utah. They occupied sixteen passenger cars and required eight freight cars for baggage. The majority were Scandinavians.
